Thursday, February 22, 2024 – 8 PM – Johnny Mathis “The Voice of Romance” Tour

Born in Gilmer, Texas, in 1935, Johnny Mathis, the fourth of seven children, discovered his passion for music through his father, Clem. Despite an initial obstacle, Johnny's determination shone as he assembled an old piano in their basement apartment at the age of eight. Under his father's guidance, he cultivated his musical talents, excelling in singing at church, school, and community events while also showcasing his athleticism in high school, particularly in high jump and hurdling.

Johnny's life took a turn when he was discovered performing at the Black Hawk nightclub during his college years at San Francisco State College. Talent manager Helen Noga recognized his potential, leading to his debut in the recording industry in 1956. Collaborating with producer Mitch Miller, Johnny released romantic ballads like "Wonderful, Wonderful" and "It's Not For Me To Say," catapulting him to national fame after his appearance on the Ed Sullivan Show in 1957. His illustrious career included numerous chart-topping hits, such as "Misty," and accolades like five Grammy nominations and induction into the Grammy Hall of Fame. Beyond music, Johnny is an avid golfer and gourmet cook, remaining dedicated to his craft even after 66 years in the industry.
